The Mines and Mineral Wealth of Mexico.

The idea formerly prevailed that the rich mines of silver and gold, which for nearly three centuries following the conquest of Mexico, poured their immense treasures into old Spain, enriched her monarchs and nobles beyond those of any other nation, and during their first great flow of wealth, furnished the means for a still wider extension of the empire, have become, in a measure, exhausted—or at least that they cannot now be profitably worked to profit. That this is an erroneous view, however, has long since been discovered by travellers, and became, to a considerable extent, known among intelligent readers. The silver mines of Mexico, so far from being exhausted, are in fact inexhaustible, if we may believe recent writers, in addition to the statements of Humboldt. It is the richest mineral country on the globe,—and with a stable government, able to subdue the savage Indian tribes and willing to afford protection to those who should invest the necessary capital to open and work the mines, Mexico would, in twenty years' time, furnish to the world an almost fabulous amount of bullion.

The stock of information relative to the silver mines of Mexico, has been considerably increased by Mr. Robert A. Wilson, an intelligent gentleman of western New York, who, a few years ago, travelled over that country, and made quite a minute examination of many of the old mines, which were worked long after the Conquest, and subsequently abandoned, and who also travelled through most of the mining districts. He has just published through Harper & Brothers, an interesting work upon that country, entitled "Mexico and its Religion," which, however, gives quite as much information upon other topics as on religion.

According to Mr. Wilson, the northern departments of Chihuahua and Sonora are distinguished for a remarkable abundance of silver, although the rich mines of antiquity are principally in the Southern mountain ranges. In the southern mines, the ore is raised from immense depths, at vast expense, and is separated from the earthy matters by laborious and expensive processes; but in Sonora, in some districts, it is found nearly pure, and sometimes in large masses of virgin metal. In the mine of El Carmen, which in the last century produced so immensely as to cause its proprietor to receive a title of nobility, a piece of pure silver was found, weighing 425 pounds, and in another mine a mass of 2700 pounds was discovered—probably the largest piece of pure silver ever found in the world.

Mr. Wilson intimates the belief that veins of silver ore extend the entire length of Mexico on the north, "cropping out" to the surface in Sonora, on the western declivity of the Sierra Madre range. At the town of Sahapoliz, on this declivity, the lodes or out-croppings of the silver are almost innumerable, according to Ward's account of Mexico, and in some of those which have been worked, the metal was formerly cut out with chisels.

The Moseles mine, in this department was discovered in 1826, by two Indian gold brothers, named Arango, who, according to the Mexican laws, had the right to work the mine by paying the usual duties, although they did not own a foot of the soil. The night before their discovery, they were so poor that they corn for their bread; and yet, before the night was out, they had extracted $270,000 worth of metal from their claim, and had $200,000 of it locked up in their wretched hovel.

Another modern mine in this same vicinity, over two hundred lades were registered within a circuit of three leagues, in a single year, and a third one was so rich that it yielded about $3,000,000 from 1811 to 1814. A single cavern in the Santa Eulalia district produced so much of the "rotten ore," that from a shilling contribution on each $8 worth, the magnificent cathedral of Chihuahua was built.

The most famous spot in the world, however, for its product of silver ore, was the mine of Arazuma—the accounts of which were formerly considered fabulous, but have lately been confirmed by ample testimony. It was the wonder of the world, (says Mr. Wilson) a hundred years ago, and accomplished until its working was stopped by a royal ordinance, declaring it the King's possession as a "creation of silver," and the subsequent breaking out of a ruinous Indian war, which caused it to be almost a forgotten locality. It was here that the mass of 2700 pounds weight was found, and Mr. W. says it was but a few miles distant from the proposed track for our Pacific railroad. The richest is almost inaccessible, and the mines cannot be advantageously worked, without a supply of mineral coal for smelting—nor can they be worked at all, without greater security for life and property than now exists. The formidable Apaches swept over northern Sonora, a century ago, soon after the Spaniards had deposited the inexhaustible wealth of the region, and the country now lies almost in a state of nature—the mineral deposits being reserved by Providence, according to the author's idea, "for the uses of another race which is destined to overrun the continent"—meaning of course, the Anglo Saxon. How far his dazzling reports of the untold wealth of the region may aid in bringing about that result, the intelligent reader must judge—as also of the entire credibility of his narrative.

There is no question, however, that Mexico yielded to the Spaniard of former days, an amount of treasure equalled only by the auriferous products of vastly more numerous laborers in the Californian and Australian gold washings. Some of the old mines in the South, although worked at an incredible expense, yielded a vast profit when a rich vein was struck. In the Hakal mine, a single small lode yielded at the rate of $1,000,000 a year. CANOE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF THE BANGOR, OLDTOWN AND MILFORD RAILROAD.—John W. Vesse Esq. has entered upon the duties of superintendent of the B. O. & M. railroad, in place of Rufus Harris, Esq., so long and favorably known to the public as the superintendent and the exclusive manager of the whole business of the road.

Mr. Harris has been engaged in the management of this road for over twenty years. The Stockholders prevailed within two or three years mostly out of the State, and so prudent and successful was his official conduct, that he had the entire confidence of the corporation, and the whole responsibility of conducting all its affairs. The Directors of the road several years since, gave him an honorable token of their appreciation, and when the road was transferred to the present owners, and their official relation with Mr. Harris was ended, they gave him another rich token of regard.—We mention these facts because during the period of Mr. Harris' official term there have been many delinquencies among railroad officials, and the accuracy and strictness of Mr. Harris' course is by the contrast more apparent and honorable.

The change of ownership of this road, effected two or three years since, has resulted in the change in the office of Superintendent. Mr. Vesse will undoubtedly make an energetic officer, but he follows one who had no superior and few equals.

THE TESTIMONY OF AN ESCAPED NOVICE from the Sisterhood of St. Joseph. New York: Harper & Brothers, and W. P. Fetridge & Co.

This is the narrative of Miss Josephine M. Buckley, whose escape from a Convent at Emmitsburg, Md., caused so much sensation a few months since. The very singular circumstances of the case, will cause the work to be widely read. It is written in good style, and appears to embrace a general description of "Life in a Convent." It is stated in the Preface that Miss Buckley was influenced to publish this account, by a defamatory letter against her written and published by the Superior of the Convent.

RAILROAD FOR SHORT DAYS—very seasonable, just now. "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long."

MATTERS IN KANSAS.—A concise and reliable glance at the appearance of things in the territory, we think the following account given to the Chicago Tribune by Mr. J. J. Parsons of Barnstable, Massachusetts who left Lawrence on the 3d of December:

At Lawrence seven hundred men were under arms, and being drilled by Gen. Lane, who has been elected to the chief command. They are in momentary expectation of an attack from the Missourians, who are encamped on the Wakarusa creek, seven miles below, and who are hourly receiving accessions to their number.

The Lawrence men are armed with Sharpe's rifles and Colt's revolvers, and will resist to the last every attempt to compel them to abandon the position they have taken. They are there with their wives and little ones, wishing peace, and dreading an attack, but every man resolved to die, if he must, in defence of his home.—The spirit of Bunker Hill and Lexington is at last aroused; and woe be to him or them, who would trample it under foot. It resisted once, and will resist again.

The men encamped on the Wakarusa, are Missourians, who did not intend even to citizenship in Kansas.

It is said that they will attempt to carry out the threats that have been heretofore made—burn Lawrence and drive the free state men from the territory. They are mounted and armed with rifles and are decreasing in numbers as reinforcements come in from the adjoining counties of Missouri.

On the day that Mr. Parsons left Lawrence, he encamped for the night near their position, and there learned that he numbered a mile 300 miles, and two or more gold pieces. On the second day, he met an detachment of 110 more, just from Missouri, with arms, baggage wagons and ample stores. These had not yet crossed the Indian Reserve between the Missouri frontier and the settled part of the territory, showing clearly whence they came.

The next day he met a squad of seventy-five, with three pieces of artillery, obtained by breaking open an arsenal in Clay county; these had not yet crossed the Missouri line; but were making their way to the seat of war, vowing no border ruffian, the severest punishment to the Yankees and abolitionists, against whom they were marching. They were maddened with drink, and furious with rage and will do mischief, if possible, while they bring destruction upon themselves.

A MONSTER SUGAR SPECULATION.—The London Observer speaking of the recent extraordinary rise in sugar which took place in that city, gives the following explanatory statement:

"The rise of price—full 40 per cent.—in the price of sugar, within the last week, has been caused by extensive operations entered into by three or four speculators in the City, whose name, although freely mentioned, may not, for obvious reasons, be stated here. These individuals, one of whom is a large shipowner, arranged to go into the market and purchase all sugar, as the phrase runs, all the sugar in London, with as much as they could obtain of the same article, on its way to this country.—This enormous operation, or rather this conspiracy for the law denounces forestalling and regrating, and provides a penalty for their protection, took all the grocers and dealers in sugar so completely aback, and they were compelled to purchase at the price fixed on the article by the speculators. Hence the increase on the price of that article—an increase which amounts in a period of fortnight in the case of the poorer classes. The poor will, therefore, suffer, and the revenue will suffer; for the former, what with decreasing wages and lessened employment, will be interdicted from the consumption of sugar, while the public service will suffer by the defalcation in the revenue arising from the duty on the commodity. It is stated that each of the operators in question cleared over £100,000 by his morning's work, and that several of the small fry of speculators, who always follow in the wake of the larger, as the dogfish follows the shark, have realized considerable sums by forcing the market for sugar still higher."

The N. Y. Post comments upon the "profoundly sectional claim" which has given the control of the four most important committees to the extreme Southern wing of the Senate, and adds:

"Of course, the statesmanship of such men as Hunter, of Virginia; Bell, of New Hampshire; Sumner, of Massachusetts; and Seward, of New York, will continue to be absorbed in the consideration of granting pensions, or of examining the country of engrossing bills—in the latter of which, if they still find questions adequate for the full employment of their powers, they, at least, learn the lesson designed for them, of minding their P's and Q's."

The Post has the following also:

"Constitution to this tyrannical and treacherous policy to the administration party, I am happy to record one instance of progress in an important member of it. General Cass has announced his willingness to comply with the request of the free state men of Kansas. He has promised to take charge of and present their petition for admission to the Union and the constitution adopted by them. Whether he will vote accordingly, remains to be seen."

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN.—The sometimes astonishing feats of intelligence and sagacity evinced by the canine race have been testified to by repeated instances, in which the animal in question seemed to rise into the human, and slightly bordered on the possessed of a reasoning mind. Before hearing the following well authenticated story, we never, however, heard of a dog's commenting suicide. In copying it, we may, they have generally rather underrated than exaggerated. But to our story:—During the past week a gentleman living in the South part of the city, near the track of one of our railroads, intending to give a dinner party to some friends, purchased for his table a fine piece of venison, which to his taste was as nearly as a feast as could be conceived of. The delicacy, just duly arrived hence and was being kept until it might be wanted, in the sink-room.

The gentleman has been, for a year or two, the owner of a fine dog, much attached to his master, who, in turn, returned the faithful creature slightly. Now it unfortunately happened that this piece of meat was hung low enough to be within the reach of "Bruno," who, being unable to resist the temptation, seized upon it, and devoured the proper part. He was detected by his master in flagrante delicto, and pieces at large on weighing past friendship, the poor fellow was actually beaten and kicked out of doors. His recovery, however, soon after, but with a dejected and hang-dog look, which he retained for a day or two, when he disappeared altogether. Search being made, the dog was found with the head and chest, was found on the railroad track, a short distance from the house, the poor creature having ended a life which was no longer bearable, by a violent death. His master, who had repented his harshness, had for some time endeavored to efface the impression by acts of kindness, but all in vain. "Bruno" had been disgraced, and death alone could wipe out the stain.—Cincinnati Chronicle.

THE CHRISTIAN MIRROR.—The services of Rev. Edward F. Cutler, late pastor of the Congregational church in Hollis, have been secured in the editorial department of the Mirror. Mr. Cutler is a ripe scholar as well as a beautiful writer, and we have no doubt will render that paper all that it should be in the great cause it advocates. We welcome Mr. Cutler back to the scenes of his boyhood and early life.—Portland Mirror.

County Treasurer.

The following table shows the official count of votes for County Treasurer.

Whole number of votes,	12,335
For Lorenzo C. Flint	5,796
For Benjamin Sweet	5,424
Scattering	116

The scattering votes were for Benjamin Sweet, John H. Hinckley, Samuel Varney, John Dow, David Brown, and Thomas Taylor.

It will be seen by the above, that Mr. Flint is elected. Mr. F. is the present incumbent and has made a most acceptable officer.

ACCIDENT.—The Belfast Age says that Benj. F. Ahdison of Roxbury, Mass., first mate of the new brig Diana, fell into the lower hold of the vessel, yesterday, the 20th, and was so shocking bruised that he died in a few hours. He was but 26 years of age and was a smart and estimable young man.

The Maine Telegraph Company have leased their line to the American Telegraph Company, the lease to commence the first of January.

Messrs. Hatch & Lewis have received Harper for January. It is as usual an excellent number.

From Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, Dec. 12, 1855.

I have just arrived here by the Martha Jewett. On Friday last 100 armed ruffians left Westport for Lawrence, and on Sunday 100 more. A more abandoned gang of scoundrels could not be collected in the Five Points. The principal object had in view by these men was plunder. They openly avowed their intention of forcing "the d—d Yankees to fight," and that when they would extirpate "the cursed breed in Kansas."

Two thousand men were said to be rendezvoused at Rickapoo. I saw some of these brave defenders of the right and "law and order" on board, and from my knowledge of the border counties of Missouri, I can testify there were not ten slaveholders in each 100 of them.—The respectable Missourians stand at home, and or charity I would say, believe did not countenance the marauders in this expedition. The situation of the inhabitants of Lawrence is truly critical. Nay gentlemen, the Missouri may be considered closed from this day, as the cold spell of this week must bring down vast quantities of ice from the upper country. Re-enforcements are consequently, by this means, cut off from the East. The threats of the drunken, idle hangers on of the border towns are in a fair way of realization. These ruffians go to Lawrence determined to make a case for a quarrel, and in case they succeed in getting up even a brawl, the Free State men will large badly.—We will burn the d——d Abolitionist company, nicely out, hang free men, as soon as captured, and ravish the women." These are the words literally on the lips of these gallant, chivalrous sons of the South. God defend the right.

I am here, thank God, where I can at least write the truth. But do not think I have fled my friends. I came on business to the Territory and having perfected my arrangements, leave to-morrow for Jefferson City, thence to Lawrence.

A FREE-SOIL SETTLER.

[From the correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10, 1855.

Chief Justice Taney still remains absent from his seat on the bench—a seat which he has filled with so much honor for nearly a quarter of a century. At the last intelligence from him at Baltimore on Friday a hope was expressed by the attending physician that he might be able to appear in Court during the next fortnight. Still there is much painful misgiving among his friends, not so much as to the fulfilment of this immediate expectation as to the future. Judge Taney is now about 78 years old, and a constitution naturally feeble, has been severely tried by disease and the unremitting exactions of an arduous profession. Superadded to these almost life-long difficulties, he suffered an irreparable domestic affliction during the last summer in the loss of his wife and daughter, which desolated his fireside and withdrew consolations that at his age, had been equal necessaries of existence. Under the most favorable circumstances it is to be expected in the nature of things that his connection with the Supreme Court cannot be very prolonged; but come when the separation may, it will be attended with deep regret by the public, and by a sense of a serious loss to the high tribunal known in foreign lands.

RECEIPTS.—We learn, on good authority, that the duties collected in the District of Boston for the year 1855, will not exceed $10,000. Last year they were $95,833; $17,000 of which were collected for articles still subject to duty, and the balance on those now admitted free. The value of goods imported free in consequence of the reciprocity treaty are, however, enormous, in excess of last year; being for one quarter even larger than for the whole season of 1854. On the contrary, the duties collected at Canadian ports on articles imported from the States are nearly five per cent. less than formerly.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

GLASS
Daguerreotypes
and Crystalotypes,
at Burnham's

19 Main Street and 34 Strickland's Block.

Likenesses made upon Glass, showing all the delicacy and smoothness which the glass surface presents. These Pictures are truly beautiful.—Come and visit for yourselves.

—ALSO—

Crystalotype Likenesses, (or Pictures on Paper.) These Pictures, which have been gaining in public favor for some years past in Boston and elsewhere, are now presented for the consideration of those who wish for a large number of Pictures at small price. They resemble Engravings, are not varnished, and may be painted in Oil or Water Colors. Small Daguerreotypes may be enlarged by this process to almost any size. This we consider a very valuable consideration, as many persons who have small Pictures of deceased friends would be glad to have them enlarged, so as to be hung in frames upon the wall.

The subscribers have recently secured the services of Mr. R. Burnham, who has been operating in the vicinity, and has collected a large number of specimens of persons in the following towns, viz.—Oldtown, Orono, Hampden, Frankfort, Frankfort Marsh, Bucksport, Prospect, Searsport and Belfast, which may be seen at the Main-st. room.

With the above named arrangement we feel better prepared than ever before to wait upon our friends, and we respectfully solicit a continuance of the patronage which has been so liberally bestowed for the past [illegible] years.

BURNHAM BROTHERS.

People coming in from the country if not aware of the fact, should take notice that I am nevertheless true that he sells Lockets with a Daguerreotype set in for less money than the Locket can be bought of any jeweler in the city.

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.

SENATE. On motion of Mr. Case, the petitions of the members of the Illinois Legislature against the election of Mr. Trumbull, were referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. Mr Trumbull submitted his evidence of the regularity of his election, which was referred to the same committee.

Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE. The contest from Speaker was resumed with the following result:

Banks 100, Richardson 71, Fuller 54, scattering 19.

Mr. Smith of Alabama made a proposition to appoint two standing Committees, one on ways and means and the other on foreign affairs, in order to proceed to some of business.—These committees to appoint their chairmen by a majority vote, and the chairmen to preside over the ordinary business of the House alternately, until a Speaker is elected.

Mr. Smith further proposed that one hour be devoted to the nominating speeches, after which the House should proceed to the appointment of Clerk, Door Keeper, and Sergeant at Arms.

Members then took a recess for half an hour to prepare the committees on ways and means, and the committees on foreign affairs, and the committees on the House next to proceed to the election of a Clerk, Door Keeper, and Sergeant at Arms.

Speaker Banks then called the House to order, and the Clerk read the proposition of Mr. Smith, through whose motion the House was thrown into a state of confusion, and it was in the way, as it was sworn in by the Speaker, and could not be proceed to any other business.

Mr. Smith remarked that unless some such plan were adopted, business must suffer. Mr. Campbell of Ohio, could not see how the Democratic friends to adhere to their positions and platform.

Mr Mullen wanted the Seward Black Republicans should not pass the resolution of the Missouri resolution, leaves the Government in the hands of a Slave Law repealed, this Union must be dissolved, the declaration of Independence, and Giddings, the fanatical grey-headed old infidel, now shaking.

Mr. Letchcher assigned the reason why he could not support Richardson or Banks, saying that he and his friends must stand on a middle national ground which neither being their principles.

Mr Wright of Tennessee contended that however patriotic the American party may be, they are by their votes, making the extension of the naturalization laws paramount to every other consideration.

Mr Cox recognized no one as a member of the American party who, he cannot stand on the 12th Section of the Philadelphia platform and said the Speaker could be elected immediately if the Democrats can prevail to his side, but the Americans have no power to carry over all their force to Richardson.

Adjourned.

Incendiarism.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20:

An attempt was made last night to set an early hour this morning to set fire to the Northern Temporary Home for Friendless Children, in this city.—Fire was kindled in the lower part of the building, but was fortunately speedily extinguished. One hundred children were in the upper portions of the building.

A GIANT.—The attendants at one of our banks, on Saturday forenoon, was greatly surprised to see enter their banking room a man unmitted, in every sense of the word, to be called a giant. As he came in, although he were a stop, he was obliged to stoop slightly to enter the door. A subsequent measurement showed that the doorway measured exactly seven feet in height. His limbs, although hardly in proportion to his height, were very large. The money changers were completely nonplussed at the sight of this visitor, and would hardly keep their countenance to pay a check which he offered. The high railing or fence which usually sets upon the counter and conceals inside operations, proved useless in this case, as the man easily looked over it, the top not coming as high as his shoulders. The giant we believe is a farmer, and hails from Littleton.—Boston Traveller.

HEAVY BUSINESS IN NEW YORK. The Express states that on Monday a young man named Thomas Roach was arrested on the charge of having on the night of the 8th inst. broken into the establishment of his former employers, Messrs Hemsley & Coffer, 38 Broadway, and stealing about one thousand black vests, and a large lot of jackets and pantaloon bands, all to the value of $4700. He conveyed the goods to an auction store, where they were recognized and recovered by their owners. Roach had previously stolen goods from the firm, and spent the proceeds in gambling.

FIRES. The store still belonging to Mr. Jas. Palmer, in this town, about three miles from the village was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning last. Loss about $500 on which there was no insurance. We do not learn how the fire originated.

The barn of William Russell of Harmony, was consumed by fire on Thursday night last, together with all his hay and grain, one yoke of oxen and two cows. We did not learn how the fire originated, the amount of loss, or whether there was any insurance.—Skowhegan Clarion.

DEATH BY DROWNING. We regret to learn that Mr. Edwin Merrill, of New Gloucester, was drowned in Sebago Day Pond, so called, in that town, on Tuesday last. He left home on that day to make a visit as a neighbor, about two miles distant, and it is supposed he attempted to cross the pond, but the ice was not strong enough to bear him, and he was drowned. His body was found in the pond on Monday last.—Portland Advertiser.

5th and 20th of each Month

Reduced Prices 100 lbs Baggage Free.

By order of the Postmaster General, the United States Mail Steamers will hereafter be despatched from New York direct to Aspinwall, on the 5th and 20th of each month.

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall, and conveyed across to the Pacific Steamers without any extra expense. This is the only line giving entire through tickets, including meals on the Isthmus.

Transit made in four hours, entirely by daylight, thus avoiding the great exposure by night in open boats to fever and ague and 200 miles of danger and hard labor and river navigation over rocks and shoals.

Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U. S. Pacific Mail Steamer will leave Panama for San Francisco immediately on arrival of the Atlantic Mails and passengers, thus securing passengers to the Mail Line a sure and short passage, without any detention on the Isthmus.

☞ Tickets must be secured by one of the Company's Agents before they will be permitted by the Agent at Panama, and Tickets thus signed can be obtained of the only authorized Agent of the Atlantic and Pacific Mail Steamship Company, in this city, C. HAS ARRIVED

The Voluntary Testimony of Living Witnesses, is that

Hayes' Allied Ointment, and Humor Syrup.

IS the BEST MEDICINE ever offered to the public for the Cure of all Humors.

It has stood the test of more than seven years, and is offered to the public, we are not ignorant of its operation. We know it to be the greatest BLESSING to PAIN and SUFFERING to those afflicted with skin diseases, and truly one of the greatest blessings to mankind ever before the public, as we can show by the evidence of living witnesses.

Read the following—it speaks for itself

LAWRENCE, March 3, 1854

We, the undersigned citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by Dr. E. Hayes, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to the Doctor's claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation refuses to offer speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy result after vainly seeking relief in the free use of Sarsaparilla. Saved, not set Overpowered fully your obedient, recommending it to the public as a safe and the only one happy in performing what it promises.

A. S. BUCKER, A. WESTON, S. THOMPSON, ISRAEL SANBORN.

IN CURES

The Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Tetter, Ringworm, Chronic Sores, Old Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Scalds, Brilliant Pains (a preparation expressly for Barbers), Fever Sores and all Old Ulcerous Sores is never long enduring. It removes all those Scrofulous Pimples, Eruptions and Moth Patches from the face, leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, and in general by the beauty of the operation. Never in one case will it leave the slightest blemish or scar. It will draw Humors from the Ears, Nose, Throat, and from the Head and Eyes by its outward application, in a short time, to the astonishment of those who have been wonderfully blind where the eyes are mantled with Humors, by reason of the difficulty, and restoring the sight.

Hayes' Pile Ointment,

A Certain CURE for PILES, and all External Affections. Directions in the bottle. Price $1.

Prepared by Dr. E. D. Hayes and sold wholesale and retail by CHARLES H. KENT, General Agent for the United States and Canadas, No. 5 and 6 Appleton Block, Lawrence St., Lawrence, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed.

PATENTS

American and Foreign Office,

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 75 State Street, opposite Kilby St. BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office (under the act of 1837), continued to present claims, prepare specifications, and conduct the business of his office, and made arrangements, whereby the applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty) as heretofore charged by other offices, will be remitted by him to the Examiner to obtain patents on the withdrawal, through him within thirty days after the rejection. Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting patents, validity and infringement of patents. Inventors who are poor by reason of their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than those of others in the profession), but avail themselves of the experience of twenty years' practice, his views to the Patent Office, his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct reports of patents granted in this and other countries, besides being at a journey to Washington the seat of patent office, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

E. R. HEADY, Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I held the office of Commissioner of Patents, E. R. HEADY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more ability, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring strangers that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Washington, D. C., Sept. 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, Mr. E. R. Heady, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly versed in the duties of his profession, and the success of practice of the most experienced practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. KENNEDY'S

DISCOVERY

The Greatest of the Age!

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in the common pasture weeds a sure cure for every kind of humor, as shown to a common purchaser over eleven hundred cases, called in the last two years. He has now in his possession two hundred certificates of cures within thirty miles of Boston.

He will warrant to cure a nursing sore mouth.

He will cure the worst kind of a scald head in three days.

He will cure the system of the effects of mercury.

He will warrant to cure the worst kind of a sore leg.

He will warrant to cure the worst kind of a sore breast.

He will warrant to cure the worst kind of a sore eye.

He will warrant to cure all kinds of sore ears.

He will warrant to cure running sores in the head.

He will warrant to cure corns on the feet.

He will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

He will warrant to cure the worst kind of a ringworm.

He will warrant to cure the worst kind of a tetter.

He will warrant to cure the worst kind of rheumatism.

He will warrant to cure salt rheum.

He will cure the very worst kind of piles.

He has always experienced from the first application a perfect cure, warranted when the directions are followed.

Books containing testimonials of the wonderful medicines of the age, can be had of the agent, free, giving upon the outside of each bottle, stating what disease it is intended to cure, and the manner in which it is to be used.

He has sold the medicine for over a thousand dollars in the city of Boston, and knows of but one case in which it has not given satisfaction, and that was a child of about two years of age, and one of the most obstinate cases over done in Massachusetts. He has also sold it to children a year old, for the whooping cough, and has seen many looking as those children did, with skin soft and flabby, restored to a state of health by one bottle.

He does not expect to cure bald heads, but always does it. It gives great relief in all cases of baldness. Some who have taken it have not shaved for years, and have been regularly shaved before. When the body is sound it works a cure, but if there is any derangement of the system, it will cause very slight sickness, but you must not be alarmed—they will go away in four or five days to a week—after which you will feel better than you have for a long time before. It will cure you of the worst kind of a bad cold in a few days, when all else has failed. It will cure the cholera morbus in a few hours, and the cholera infantum in a few days. It will cure the worst case of dysentery in a few days. It will cure the worst case of diarrhœa in a few days. It will cure the worst case of piles in a few days. It will cure the worst case of costiveness in a few days. It will cure the worst case of jaundice in a few days. It will cure the worst case of fever and ague in a few days. It will cure the worst case of liver complaint in a few days. It will cure the worst case of dyspepsia in a few days. It will cure the worst case of female complaints in a few days. It will cure the worst case of nervous debility in a few days. It will cure the worst case of consumption in a few days. It will cure the worst case of scrofula in a few days. It will cure the worst case of erysipelas in a few days. It will cure the worst case of salt rheum in a few days. It will cure the worst case of ringworm in a few days. It will cure the worst case of tetter
